Abstract: (Arial Narrow 10 pt, bold, alignment left, Indentation None)

Text of the abstract: The abstract should summarize the content and conclusions of the paper in less 200 words, focusing on what your research is about, what methods have been used, and what you found out. (Typically around 10 sentences). It should not contain any references or displayed equations.

Typeset the abstract in 10 points, regular, justify alignment, Line Spacing Single.

Keywords: keyword 1; keyword 2; ...keyword 6.

Keywords will be used to index the article in databases and on search engines. These keywords will help others find your article quickly and accurately, so think of them as the labels for your article. What's more, a strong correlation exists between online hits and subsequent citations for journal articles.

JEL Classification: JEL Code1, JEL Code2,, JEL Code6.

The JEL classification system is a standard method of classifying scholarly literature in the field of economics. The guide provides JEL Code application guidelines, keywords, and examples of items within each classification is available at: <https://www.aeaweb.org/jel/guide/jel.php>

Introduction (Arial Narrow 11 pt, bold, alignment left, Indentation None, 6 pt After)

Text of the introduction. No more than 15 lines at 11 points, Arial Narrow, Justify, Line spacing Single, First line Indentation at 1cm).

1. Literature Review / State-of-Arts / Research Background (Arial Narrow 11 pt, bold, alignment left, Indentation None)

In the context of your research paper the literature review should be a critical synthesis of previous research in the subject field. The evaluation of the literature leads logically to the research question. Who is doing what? Who has done what? Who first did it or published it? Taken from published papers, research monographs, catalogues etc. Based on primary sources. Offering a, probably new, structured view of the field of study.

Text at 11 points, Arial Narrow, Justify, Line spacing Single, First line Indentation at 1cm).

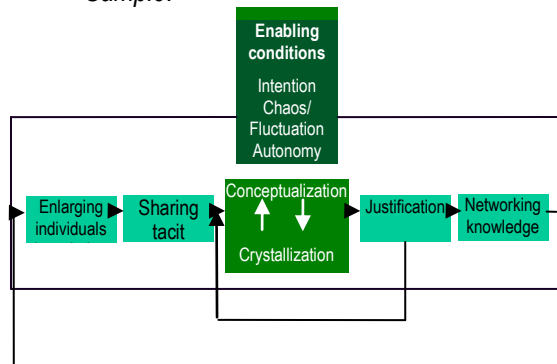

2. Methodology (Arial Narrow 11 pt, bold, alignment left, Indentation None)

Description and justification of the research methods used. Normally, the methods will be selected from known and proven examples. In special cases the development of a method may be a key part of the research, but then this will have been described in Introduction section and reviewed in first one.

Authors are encouraged to have their contribution checked for grammar. The text is to be typeset in 11 pt Arial Narrow, single spaced, align justify, First line Indentation at 1cm).

Figures are to be inserted in the text nearest their first references. All components are to be grouping. Figures are to be sequentially numbered in Arabic Numeral, at 10 pct, regular.

Tables should be numbered sequentially in the text. The tables must have a title, centralized above. Typeset tables and captions in 10 pt. Displayed tables are to be centred on the page width.

Sample:

Table 1 - Title of table

Tranche	Spread (basis point) (Gaussian copula)	Spread (basis point) (Student copulas)
0% à 10% (Equity)	2952,4	3172.895
10% à 30% (Mezzanine)	779.3024	762.065
30% à 100 % (Senior)	43.4713	30.210

Mathematical Expressions. Displayed equations (Arial Narrow 11 pt, Regular, Alignment Justify, Indentation First line 1 cm, Spacing Before 6 pt and After 6 pt) should be numbered consecutively, with the number set in right sight and enclosed in parentheses. Equations should be referred to in abbreviated form, e.g. "Eq. (3.1)" or "(3.1)". in multiple/line equations, the number should be given on the last line.

3. Case studies/experiments/ demonstrations/ application functionality (Arial Narrow 11 pt, bold, alignment left, Indentation None)

Description of the new studies/software/artwork and the process of production. What has been done, how was it achieved and what was the rationale? This can be, for example, a report on the design and execution of a set of experiments, the development of an innovative software system or the making of innovative art works. If so, this chapter will illuminate it by explaining, at the very least, what is important and new about it.

Conclusion (Arial Narrow 11 pt, bold, alignment left, Indentation None)

A wider perspective-implications for other broader areas and domains. Future Work and Outstanding Questions.
Conclusion text, Arial Narrow 11 pt, Alignment Justify, Indentation First line 1 cm.

Acknowledgements (Arial Narrow 11 pt, bold, alignment left, Indentation None)

Please acknowledge collaborators or anyone who has helped with the paper at the end of the text, only if the case.

References (Arial Narrow 11 pt, bold, alignment left, Indentation None)

References are to be listed in the alphabetically and numbered in Arabic numerals. Typeset references in Arial Narrow 11 pt, Alignment Justify, Indentation None Hanging, Spacing: Before 0 pt; After 6 pt, Line Spacing Single. Follow the style shown in these examples:

Works Cited entries should contain author, year, title, volume, and page numbers for articles. Below are some common examples of materials. Each example is given first in humanities style (a note [N], followed by a bibliographic entry [B]) and then in author-date style (an in-text citation [T], followed by a reference-list entry [R]). For numerous specific examples, see chapters 16 and 17 of The Chicago Manual of Style, 15th edition, http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html.

Online sources that are analogous to print sources (such as articles published in online journals, magazines, or newspapers) should be cited similarly to their print counterparts but with the addition of a URL. Some publishers or disciplines may also require an access date. For online or other electronic sources that do not have a direct print counterpart (such as an institutional Web site or a Weblog), give as much information as you can in addition to the URL. The following examples include some of the most common types of electronic sources.
